One thousand modules and only one connection.

- The module shows the name of a module released before March 2021.
- All vowels, punctuatation, numbers, and spaces are removed. Any module that contains solely those will never be shown.
- The remaining letters will now have spaces randomly placed in between them.
- Pressing the cycle button will show a new module, with the same restrictions listed prior. There is no consequence of pressing the cycle buttons as many times as needed.
- There is one hieroglyph that is not present on the module. Use that as the column in the table, and the intersection of each hieroglyph will be what it represents.
- All the modules shown will have one vowel in common that is not present in any of their names. Determine the vowel and submit the corresponding hieroglyphic.
